Frontend Engineer

- Built a responsive AI-powered skin analysis web app end to end during an internship at Skinstric.ai
- Developed a multi-step Next.js (App Router), TypeScript, and Tailwind CSS flow that captures a face via live webcam or gallery upload and sends it to Skinstric's AI API for demographic analysis (race, age, gender).
- Built Next.js route handlers as a server-side proxy to the AI service, with request validation, base64 image encoding, and error handling that keeps API endpoints out of the client.
- Managed analysis results with Redux Toolkit and built an interactive results dashboard that ranks predictions by confidence and lets users manually override them. Selections persist across the session.
- Implemented loading states, animated UI components, and accessible, mobile-first layouts, collaborating with the design team and working from their Figma designs to deliver a faithful implementation.
